[SOL] In News: Recently ,The Prime Minister of India highlighted that the country has reached a landmark figure of 100 unicorns with a valuation of more than $300 billion.

Statements 1 and 2 are not correct : Unicorns are privately held, venture-capital backed startups that have reached a value of $1 billion.

- The term was first popularised by venture capitalist Aileen Lee.
- They are very rare and require innovation. Because of their sheer size, unicorn investors tend to be private investors or venture capitalists, which means they are out of the reach of retail investors.

- The valuation of unicorns is not expressly linked to their current financial performance, but largely based on their growth potential as perceived by investors and venture capitalists who have taken part in various funding rounds

[SOL] About the 1972 Stockholm conference:

- It was the first world conference to make the environment a major issue.
- The participants adopted a series of principles for sound management of the environment including the Stockholm Declaration and Action Plan for the Human Environment and several resolutions.
- It marked the start of a dialogue between industrialized and developing countries on the link between economic growth, the pollution of the air, water, and oceans and the well-being of people around the world. Hence statement 1 is correct.
  - This conference was about the fallout of industrialisation and how to cope and mitigate its harmful impacts.
- One of the major results of the Stockholm conference was the creation of the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP).
- Indira Gandhi was the only head of government other than that of the host country Sweden to attend and speak at the meeting. Hence statement 3 is correct.
  - In her speech in the conference, she brought forward the connection between ecological management and poverty alleviation.

The 'Earth Summit' of 1991:

- The following was formed at this conference-
  - The Rio Declaration and its 27 universal principles,
  - The United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC), Hence statement 2 is incorrect.
  - The Convention on Biological Diversity and
  - The Declaration on the principles of forest management.

[SOL] Recently, India and Sweden hosted the Industry Transition Dialogue in Stockholm, as a part of their joint initiative i.e. Leadership for Industry Transition (LeadIT).

Statement 1 is not correct : LeadIT was launched by the governments of Sweden and India at the UN Climate Action Summit in September 2019 and is supported by the World Economic Forum.

- It lays specific focus on hard to abate sectors that are key stakeholders in the global climate action and require specific interventions.

- Japan and South Africa, the latest members of the initiative were welcomed.
  - This extends the total membership of LeadIT to 37 including countries and companies together.
- It gathers countries and companies that are committed to action to achieve the Paris Agreement.

Statements 2 and 3 are correct : LeadIT members subscribe to the notion that energy-intensive industry can and must progress on low-carbon pathways, aiming to achieve net-zero carbon emissions by 2050. It provides an arena for public-private collaboration, and for sectoral and cross-sectoral learning for example when it comes to innovation opportunities and new technologies. It also supports governments and industries to co-produce stakeholder-led pathways to low carbon industry transformation.

[SOL] Neptune and Uranus have much in common, yes their appearance is in different shades of blue.

Statement 1 is not correct: The red colours of the sunlight scattered from the haze and air molecules are more absorbed by methane molecules in the atmosphere of the planets. This process — referred to as Rayleigh scattering — is what makes skies blue here on Earth (though in Earth's atmosphere sunlight is mostly scattered by nitrogen molecules rather than hydrogen molecules). Rayleigh scattering occurs predominantly at shorter, bluer wavelengths.

Statement 2 is not correct: Sequence of planets from Sun:

Mercury -> Venus -> Earth -> Mars -> Jupiter -> Saturn -> Uranus -> Neptune

Statement 3 is correct: An aerosol is a suspension of fine droplets or particles in a gas. Common examples on Earth include mist, soot, smoke, and fog. On Neptune and Uranus, particles produced by sunlight interacting with elements in the atmosphere (photochemical reactions) are responsible for aerosol hazes in these planets' atmospheres.

[SOL] Statement 1 is not correct: Tax-to-GDP ratio represents the size of a country's tax kitty relative to its GDP. It is a representation of the size of the government's tax revenue expressed as a percentage of the GDP. The higher the tax to GDP ratio the better the financial position the country will be in. The ratio represents that the government is able to finance its expenditure. A higher tax to GDP ratio means that the government is able to cast its fiscal net wide. It reduces a government's dependence on borrowings.

Statement 2 is not correct: Developed nations typically have higher tax-to-GDP ratios than developing nations.

- In WTO terminology, subsidies in general are identified by “Boxes” which are given the colours of traffic lights: green (permitted), amber (slow down — i.e. be reduced), red (forbidden). In agriculture, things are, as usual, more complicated.
- The Agriculture Agreement has no Red Box, although domestic support exceeding the reduction commitment levels in the Amber Box is prohibited; and there is a Blue Box for subsidies that are tied to programmes that limit production.

- There are also exemptions for developing countries.

[SOL] History of Caste Census

- A population census was first carried out by the British colonial state in 1872.
- The 65-page census volume enumerated the populations of various castes, including Brahmins, Kshatriyas and Rajputs across several provinces.
- Caste populations were specifically counted based on their traditional occupations at the time.
  - For instance, “Hindoos” in the Madras province were counted in 17 sets, which included “priests, warriors, traders, agriculturists, shepherds and pastoral castes” among others.
- The last time comprehensive data on caste was collected was in the 1931 Census. Hence statement 1 is correct.

Every Census in independent India from 1951 to 2011 has published data on Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, but not on other castes. Hence statement 2 is incorrect.

Socio-economic caste census (SECC):

- It is a study of the socio-economic status of rural and urban households and allows ranking of households based on predefined parameters.
- The flaws in the data stem primarily from the fact that no registry of castes was prepared before conducting the 2011 caste census.
  - This resulted in mistakes by enumerators, who spelt the same caste in dozens of different ways.

- At the national level, whereas the total number of castes as per the last caste census of 1931 was 4,147, the SECC-2011 showed the presence of 46 lakh different castes.
- Since the total number cannot be “exponentially high to this extent”, the government has said this entire data set is flawed and the census unreliable, rendering it unusable for the purposes of reservations and policy.
- For these reasons, it has refused to make public even the raw caste data of the SECC-2011. Hence statement 3 is correct.

- Founded in 1865 to facilitate international connectivity in communications networks. It allocates global radio spectrum and satellite orbits.
- It develops the technical standards that ensure networks and technologies seamlessly interconnect, and strive to improve access to ICTs to underserved communities worldwide.
- It is committed to connecting all the world's people – wherever they live and whatever their means.

Statement 3 is not correct : India has been a member of ITU since 1869 and has been continuously participating, actively in the works, and activities of the Union.

- It has been contributing, to the fullest possible extent, in the growth and development of Telecom/ICTs, for the benefit of the global community.

[SOL] Recently, the Supreme Court (SC) directed that every protected forest, national park and wildlife sanctuary across the country should have a mandatory eco-sensitive zone (ESZ) of a minimum one km starting from their demarcated boundaries.

Statement 1 is correct: The Eco-Sensitive Zone (ESZ) are areas in India notified by the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEFCC), GoI around Protected Areas, National Park and Wildlife sanctuaries.

- Purpose:
  - To create some kind of "shock absorbers" to the protected areas by regulating and managing the activities around such areas.
  - Therefore, these areas act as a buffer for protected areas and reduce developmental pressures around a wildlife sanctuary or national park.
  - They also act as a transition zone from areas of high protection to areas involving lesser protection.

Statement 2 is not correct: Prohibited activities:

- Activities like industries which cause pollution Commercial mining, saw mills, establishment of major hydroelectric projects (HEP), commercial use of wood, Tourism, discharge of effluents or any solid waste or production of hazardous substances are all prohibited.
- Regulated activities:
  - Activities like felling of trees, establishment of hotels and resorts, commercial use of natural water, erection of electrical cables, drastic change of agriculture system, e.g. adoption of heavy technology, pesticides etc., widening of roads.
- Permitted activities:
  - Activities like ongoing agricultural or horticultural practices, rainwater harvesting, organic farming, use of renewable energy sources, adoption of green technology for all activities are permitted.

[SOL] Recently, the Government of India is exploring the possibility of inviting manufacturers of Electric Vertical Take off and Landing (eVTOL) aircraft to set up bases in India.

Statement 1 is correct: Electric Vertical Take off and Landing (eVTOL) opens up new possibilities which aircraft with engines cannot carry out in areas such as manoeuvrability, efficiency and even from the environmental point of view. It is pitched as a cost-comparable replacement for short-range urban transportation based on a fan-run tilt-wing design. Prototypes made test flights.

Statement 2 is correct: These use cameras, radar, GPS (global positioning system) and infrared scanners which makes it multi tasking and efficient. Although these advanced eVTOL vehicles under development still need access to fuel (hybrid) and/or electric charging capability, they can take off and land from almost anywhere.

Statement 3 is correct: E-VTOLs are noise free, have a zero carbon footprint and are more affordable.

[SOL] Surrogacy (Regulation) Act:

- Objective:
  - The Act sought to regulate the surrogacy part of a rather flourishing infertility industry in the country.
- Defining 'surrogacy':
  - It is defined as a practice where a woman undertakes to give birth to a child for another couple and agrees to hand over the child to them after birth.
- Altruistic surrogacy:
  - The Act allows 'altruistic surrogacy' — wherein only the medical expenses and insurance coverage is provided by the couple to the surrogate mother during pregnancy.

- No other monetary consideration will be permitted.
- The intending couple:
  - Any couple that has 'proven infertility' is a candidate.
  - The 'intending couple' as the Act calls them, will be eligible if they have a 'certificate of essentiality' and a 'certificate of eligibility' issued by the appropriate authority.
  - The former will be issued if the couple fulfills three conditions:
    - A certificate of infertility of one or both from a district medical board;
    - An order of parentage and custody of the surrogate child passed by a Magistrate's court;
    - Insurance cover for the surrogate mother.
- Eligibility Certificate:
  - An eligibility certificate mandates that the couple fulfill the following conditions:
    - They should be Indian citizens who have been married for at least five years;
    - the female must be between 23 to 50 years and the male, 26 to 55 years;
    - they cannot have any surviving children (biological, adopted or surrogate);
    - However, this would not include a 'child who is mentally or physically challenged or suffers from life threatening disorder or fatal illness.'
- Surrogate mother:
  - Only a close relative of the couple can be a surrogate mother, one who is able to provide a medical fitness certificate.
    - She should have been married,
    - with a child of her own, and
    - must be between 25 and 35 years,
    - but can be a surrogate mother only once.

- 75% of river monitoring stations report heavy metal pollution according to the recent State of Environment Report 2022.
  - It is published by the environmental NGO, the Centre for Science and Environment (CSE).

Key observations of the report:

- River Pollution:
  - Three out of every four river monitoring stations in India posted alarming levels of heavy toxic metals such as lead, iron, nickel, cadmium, arsenic, chromium and copper.
  - In about a fourth of the monitoring stations, which are spread across 117 rivers and tributaries, high levels of two or more toxic metals were reported.
  - Of the 33 monitoring stations in Ganga, 10 had high levels of contaminants.
    - The river has high levels of lead, iron, nickel, cadmium and arsenic.
- India dumps 72% of its sewage waste without treatment.
  - Ten States do not treat their sewage at all, as per the Central Pollution Control Board.
- Coastline Erosion:
  - Over a third of India's coastline that is spread across 6,907 km saw some degree of erosion between 1990 and 2018.
  - West Bengal is the worst hit with over 60% of its shoreline under erosion.
  - Twenty-five glacial lakes and water bodies in India, China and Nepal have recorded over 40% rise in their water spread areas since 2009.
    - This has indicated a grave threat to five Indian states and two Union territories.
  - While the global average of the Ocean Health Index, a measure that looks at how sustainably humans are exploiting ocean resources, has improved between 2012 and 2021, India's score in the index has declined over the same period.
- Forest Cover:
  - India's total forest cover has registered a little over a 0.5% increase between 2017 and 2021.
    - Most of the increase has taken place in the open forest category, which includes commercial plantations.
  - This has happened at the cost of moderately dense forest, which is normally the area closest to human habitations.

- At the same time, very dense forests, which absorb maximum carbon dioxide from the atmosphere, occupy just 3% of total forest cover.
- India has a forest cover of 77.53 million hectares. But recorded forests—the area under the forest department— with forest cover are only 51.66 million.
- This gap of 25.87 million hectares —a size bigger than Uttar Pradesh— remains unaccounted, the organisation noted.

[SOL] Recently, due to Climate change impact, the southern yellow-billed hornbill has not been able to breed properly and its numbers have declined subsequently.

- Distribution and habitat:
  - The southern yellow-billed hornbill is a hornbill found in southern Africa.
  - These birds are near endemic to the dry savannas of southern Africa, where they can be found across all longitudes, from Angola and Namibia in the west to Mozambique and KwaZulu-Natal in the east, including Botswana, Zimbabwe and northern South Africa.
- IUCN Status:
  - Least Concerned.
- Diet:
  - Yellow-billed hornbills feed mainly on the ground, where they forage for seeds, small insects, spiders and scorpions.
- Behaviour:
  - The southern yellow-billed hornbill is active during morning, day and evening.
  - They can be found alone, in couples or in small groups.
  - They generally tend to be loners unless it is the breeding season, nesting season or if there is local migration during the dry season.
- Issues:
  - Southern yellow-billed hornbills struggle to breed above certain temperatures as they face greater difficulty in foraging and lose weight.

- According to the study, when the average air temperature went above 35.7 degrees Celsius, there were no successful breeding attempts at all among the hornbills.

[SOL] Recently, the government announced minimum support prices (MSP) for all mandated kharif crops for marketing season 2022-23.

Statement 1 is correct: The area under oilseed cultivation has been on a steady rise over the last few years.

Statement 2 is not correct: 4 commercial crops (cotton, sugarcane, copra, raw jute) are covered under MSP. The MSP for a crop is the price at which the government is supposed to procure/buy that crop from farmers if the market price falls below it.

- MSPs provide a floor for market prices, and ensure that farmers receive a certain “minimum” remuneration so that their costs of cultivation (and some profit) can be recovered.
- The MSPs are announced by the Union government and as such, it is the government’s decision.
- But the government largely bases its decision on the recommendations of the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices (CACP).

[SOL] In News : The Defence Acquisition Council (DAC) has given the Acceptance of Necessity (AoN) for several capital acquisition projects of the Indian defence forces.

- This includes the procurement of next-generation Corvettes for the Indian Navy at an approximate cost of Rs 36,000 crore..

Statements 1, 2 and 3 are correct : Corvette is the smallest class of naval ships and it falls below the warship class of a frigate.

- These are highly agile ships and are categorised as missile boats, anti-submarine ships, coastal patrol crafts and fast attack naval vessels.
  - The word corvette itself is derived from French and Dutch origin.
    - Corvettes date back to the 18th and the 19th century when they were extensively used in the naval warfare duels that were fought at high seas.
    - However, these were powered by sails and masts, and disappeared for a while when steam powered naval ships made their appearance.
  - During World War II, the term Corvette was used to describe vessels which had anti-submarine roles assigned to them.
    - Modern Corvettes can go up to 2,000 tons in displacement which helps in keeping them agile.

- Smoking weed in India is not legal.
- However, the one and only exemption for it is consuming it as bhang.
- The NDPS Act, 1985 lays down the punishment for carrying weed on the basis of the quantity you possess.
- Fine and punishments:
  - For possessing a small quantity you can face rigorous imprisonment for up to 6 months, a fine of Rs. 10,000, or both.
  - For a quantity that is more than a small quantity but less than the commercial quantity you can face rigorous imprisonment for up to 10 years, a fine of Rs. 1 lakh, or both.
  - For possessing commercial quantities you can face rigorous imprisonment for up to 10-20 years, a fine of Rs. 1-2 lakh, or both.

The Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 (NDPS Act):

- It outlaws the recreational use of cannabis.
- Under the Act, the production, manufacture, possession, sale, purchase, transport, and use of cannabis is a punishable offence.
- The NDPS Act, however, does not apply to the leaves and seeds of cannabis plants.
- In case the Cannabidiol (CBD) is extracted from the leaves of the cannabis, then technically it is not illegal.

[SOL] Statement 1 is not correct: The governor is neither directly elected by the people nor indirectly elected by a specially constituted electoral college as is the case with the president. He is appointed by the president by warrant under his hand and seal. In a way, he is a nominee of the Central government. But, as held by the Supreme Court in 1979, the office of governor of a state is not an employment under the Central government. It is an independent constitutional office and is not under the control of or subordinate to the Central government.

Statement 2 is correct: The Governor shall not hold any other office of profit.

- The Governor shall be entitled without payment of rent to the use of his official residences and shall be also entitled to such emoluments, allowances and privileges as may be determined by Parliament by law and, until provision in that behalf is so made, such emoluments, allowances and privileges as are specified in the Second Schedule.
- Where the same person is appointed as Governor of two or more States, the emoluments and allowances payable to the Governor shall be allocated among the States in such proportion as the President may by order determine.
- The emoluments and allowances of the Governor shall not be diminished during his term of office.

- Suggestion is given with the view that the crypto assets are available for trading in a foreign jurisdiction as well and consumers abroad can remit funds to India using such currency.

Position of the Indian government on Cryptocurrency:

- Definition for crypto assets:

- The government in the Union Budget for 2022-23 has for the first time provided a definition for crypto-assets and set out a list of proposals on the taxation of this new asset class.
- Coverage:
  - The tax proposal covered all emerging digital assets, including non-fungible tokens (NFTs), assets in the metaverse, digital currencies and tokens, among others.
- Tax deducted at source:
  - The Budget also said a 1% TDS (tax deducted at source) will be applicable on payments made on the transfer of digital assets.
  - Loss from the transfer of virtual digital assets
  - It will not be allowed to be set off against the income arising from the transfer of another VDA in the proposed amendments.
- 30 percent tax on income:
  - The government will define virtual digital assets with a view to levying a 30 percent tax on income from all transfers of such assets.

- CALPRA states that no child shall be allowed to work for more than five hours in a day, and for not more than three hours without rest.
  - The study has found that the work shift stretches to 12-13 hours for six days a week by production houses.
  - Guardians often do not interfere in the scheduling.
- The provisions of CALPRA also state, that at least 20% of the income earned by the child from the production or event is to be directly deposited in a fixed deposit account in a nationalised bank in the name of the child which may be credited to her/him on attaining majority.
  - However, the study states the money is being utilised completely on the families.

[SOL] Recently, the new Chief Election Commissioner (CEC), Rajiv Kumar has taken charge of the Election Commission of India (ECI).

Statement 1 is not correct: The President appoints Chief Election Commissioner and Election Commissioners. They have tenure of six years, or up to the age of 65 years, whichever is earlier. They enjoy the same status and receive salary and perks as available to Judges of the Supreme Court of India.

Statement 2 is correct: The Chief Election Commissioner can be removed from office only through impeachment by Parliament.

Statement 3 is not correct: The decisions of the Commission can be challenged in the High Court and the Supreme Court of India by appropriate petitions. By long standing convention and several judicial pronouncements, once the actual process of elections has started, the judiciary does not intervene in the actual conduct of the polls. Once the polls are completed and results declared, the Commission cannot review any result on its own. This can only be reviewed through the process of an election petition, which can be filed before the High Court, in respect of elections to the Parliament and State Legislatures. In respect of elections for the offices of the President and Vice President, such petitions can only be filed before the Supreme Court.

[SOL] Collegium System

- It is the system of appointment and transfer of judges that has evolved through judgments of the Supreme Court, and not by an Act of Parliament or by a provision of the Constitution. Hence statement 1 is incorrect.
- The Supreme Court collegium is headed by the Chief Justice of India and comprises four other senior-most judges of the court. Hence statement 2 is correct.
- A High Court collegium is led by its Chief Justice and four other senior-most judges of that court.
- Names recommended for appointment by a High Court collegium reaches the government only after approval by the CJI and the Supreme Court collegium.
- Judges of the higher judiciary are appointed only through the collegium system, and the government has a role only after names have been decided by the collegium.

Role of Government in Judicial Appointment

- The government's role is limited.
- It can only get an inquiry conducted by the Home Ministry if a lawyer is to be elevated as a judge in a High Court or the Supreme Court. Hence statement 3 is incorrect.
- It can also raise objections and seek clarifications regarding the collegium's choices.
- But if the collegium reiterates the same names, the government is bound, under Constitution Bench judgments, to appoint them as judges.

[SOL] Recently, the Union Home Ministry issued a set of guidelines to the States and the Union Territories on the grant of special remission to prisoners to commemorate the 75th year of Independence.

Statement 1 is correct: The Governor of a State shall have the power to grant pardons, reprieves, respites or remissions of punishment or to suspend, remit or commute the sentence of any person convicted of any offence against any law relating to a matter to which the executive power of the State extends. Thus, the pardoning power of the Governor extends to the sentence of any person convicted of any offence against any State law.

Statement 2 is correct: The scope of the pardoning power of the President under Article 72 is wider than the pardoning power of the Governor under Article 161. The power differs in the following two ways:

- The power of the President to grant pardon extends in cases where the punishment or sentence is by a Court Martial but Article 161 does not provide any such power to the Governor.
- The President can grant pardon in all cases where the sentence given is the sentence of death but the pardoning power of the Governor does not extend to death sentence cases.

Therefore, option (c) is the correct answer.

Statement 1 is not correct : Under the new scheme, around 45,000 to 50,000 soldiers will be recruited annually, and most will leave the service in just four years.

- Of the total annual recruits, only 25 per cent will be allowed to continue for another 15 years under permanent commission. It is only for personnel below officer ranks.
- Recruits under the scheme will be known as “Agniveers”.

Statements 2, 3 and 4 are not correct : Recruitment will be carried out on an ‘All India All Class’ basis with the eligibility age ranging from 17.5 to 21 years, with medical and physical fitness standards in accordance with existing norms.

- The required educational qualification will be Class X-XII.
- After completing their four-year service, they can apply for regular employment in the armed forces.
- They may be given priority over others for various jobs in other government departments.
- The “Agniveers” will receive an annual package of ₹4.76 lakh in the first year to ₹6.92 lakh in the fourth year, apart from risk and hardship and other allowances as applicable.
- Under the “Seva Nidhi” package (which is exempt from Income Tax), they will receive about ₹11.71 lakh, including contribution and interest, on completion of service.
- The recruits will have to contribute 30% of their monthly emoluments to Seva Nidhi, with a matching contribution made by the government.

[SOL] What happens during the La Nina event?

- During a La Nina event, cooler-than-average sea surface temperatures prevail over the east and the central Pacific Ocean. Hence option 1 is correct.
- Due to the cooler temperature, the trade winds above the sea surface change in character because of a difference in the wind pressures.
- This change in the character of the trade winds is then carried all around the world affecting different regions in different ways.
- La Nina usually brings wet and cold winter and spring seasons for India. Hence option 2 is correct.
- Many regions become colder and wetter, while many others become hotter and drier.
- While El Niño causes warmer temperatures over the equatorial Pacific, these are known to suppress monsoon rainfall. When La Niña happens, it has been found to be helpful in bringing good rainfall. Hence option 3 is incorrect.
- The character of La Nina, an ocean-atmosphere event that usually brings down global temperatures, is changing.

[SOL] Statements 1 and 2 are not correct: Repo Rate is the rate at which the central bank of a country (Reserve Bank of India in case of India) lends money to commercial banks in the event of any shortfall of funds.

- Repo stands for 'repurchase option' or 'repurchase agreement'.
- The central bank provides these short term loans against securities such as treasury bills or government bonds.

Reverse Repo Rate: This is the rate the central bank of a country pays its commercial banks to park their excess funds in the central bank.

- The reverse repo rate provided by RBI is generally lower than the repo rate.
- While repo rate is used to regulate liquidity in the economy, reverse repo rate is used to control cash flow in the market.
- When there is inflation in the economy, RBI increases the reverse repo rate.
  - It encourages commercial banks to make deposits in the central bank and earn returns.

Marginal Standing Facility: MSF or marginal standing facility is a system of the Reserve Bank of India that allows scheduled commercial banks to avail funds overnight.

- It was introduced by the RBI as a provision for banks to avail overnight funds during a revision of the country's monetary policy in 2011-12.
- It is usually higher than the repo rate.
- Banks can use their SLR or statutory liquidity ratio to take loans under MSF.
  - This is a short-term loan used to maintain the liquidity of banks.
- Consumer Price Index (CPI) Inflation:
  - It measures changes in the price level of a weighted average market basket of consumer goods and services purchased by households.
  - It also represents retail inflation.

[SOL] Recently, the US Federal Reserve hiked interest rates by 0.75 percentage points which is the highest rate hike in 28 years in a bid to tame runaway inflation.

- Impacts:
- Foreign Portfolio Investors: Emerging economies such as India tend to have higher inflation and, therefore, higher interest rates than in developed countries.
  - Thus, investors including Foreign Portfolio Investors tend to borrow in the US at lower interest rates in dollar terms, and invest that money in the bonds of countries such as India in rupee terms to earn a higher rate of interest.
- Currency carry trade: When the Fed raises its policy rates, the difference between the interest rates of the two countries narrows, thus making countries such as India less attractive for the currency carry trade.
- RBI's monetary policy: The Fed's decision to hike rates will also have a bearing on the Reserve Bank of India's monetary policy.
- Pressure on the rupee: In the Indian economy, the rate hike could further weaken the domestic currency which has depreciated already.
- Imported inflation: As India is a big importer of gold, crude and electronics, the rising cost of imports is likely to further widen the current account deficit (CAD).
- War and COVID: Prices have spiked partly due to external factors that include the war in Ukraine and the continuing Covid-19 shutdowns in China's key manufacturing hubs.

- Price of gas and groceries: Fed's rate hike can make borrowing costs more expensive and bring down demand in the economy by forcing consumers and businesses to curb spending.
  - However, it has no control over supply shocks, which are currently being caused by the ongoing Russia-Ukraine war.
- Gold prices may soar: gold prices could be on the rise as more people look to diversify their money and not park their money in bank deposits.
- Cost of borrowing: When the Fed raises the target interest rate, the cost of borrowing increases.
- Job cuts: rising rates will also spark a period of slower economic growth, which could result in layoffs.

[SOL] Dutch Disease in economics refers to a phenomenon wherein a country witnesses uneven growth across sectors due to the discovery of natural resources, especially large oil reserves.

- According to the concept, when a country discovers natural resources and starts exporting them to the rest of the world, it causes the exchange rate of the currency to appreciate significantly and this, in turn, discourages the exports from other sectors while encouraging the import of cheaper alternatives.
- It exhibits the following two chief economic effects:
  - It decreases the price competitiveness of exports of the affected country's manufactured goods.
  - It increases imports.
- In long run,
  - These factors can contribute to unemployment, as manufacturing jobs move to lower-cost countries.
  - Meanwhile, non-resource-based industries suffer due to the increased wealth generated by resource-based industries.
